If you'd like a gallery page that can be included for $350, but in our opinion, it's not necessary as that can be added later. There will be a few pictures on your website already.

We do want to suggest adding an Instagram plug-in that will send all your most recent photos to your website. This plug-in costs $19 and can be used as a mini gallery in the meantime. (This is what we use as a gallery on our own website.) This $19 along with the hosting fee is not covered the $2000.

Please keep in mind that the blog and shop quotes may change depending on the complexity of them and how much code is included. The given quote is rough, and for basic coding.
